

MISS EVANS PUSHES HANNA WILL CLAIMS
She 'Apparently' Was to Get $25,000 a Year, Says Lawyer.

CLAUSES DECIPHERED
Blots on Document Make Financier's Wishes Hard to Define.

ENGAGEMENT VERIFIED
Nephew Sure His Aunt Was to Have Been Married in October.

Several certified copies and photographs of the will of Dan R. Hanna were made yesterday in the office of the Surrogate at White Plains at the request of Barton, Ferguson & Moore, attorneys for Miss June Avis Evans, of Chicago, whose name, as set forth in the New York Herald yesterday, is mentioned in the will. Attempts apparently were made to blot out the name.

According to statements made in Chicago by Miss Evans's relatives, she became engaged to Mr. Hanna last April, and was to have become his wife in October.

Leslie C. Ferguson, who is in charge of the matter for the law firm, said the will "apparently" gave to Miss Evans, who was living at the Hanna estate in Westchester when the financier and publisher died, an income of $25,000 a year for life, in addition to the estate and other property. Mr. Ferguson said the will also provided that if Mr. Hanna died before he was able to marry Miss Evans a trust fund should be set aside to provide the annual income of $25,000. Under the will, however, Mr. Ferguson said he had been able to decipher this notation:

"Should she marry, however, this instrument is to become null and void. Witness, H. W. Foster and D. R. Hanna."

Blotted Part Deciphered.
That part of the Hanna will in which the name of Miss Evans is mentioned, and over all of which are blots, heavier in some places than in others, has been deciphered as follows:

"And I give, bequeath and devise in equal shares to my wife, should I have one, and to my three sons, as recited in paragraph 4. It being my intention to marry June Avis Evans, the words that immediately follow are blotted, and then can be read: 'Should I die before my marriage takes place, I instruct my executor to provide a trust'—and then there are heavy blots.

The blots apparently are an attempt to cancel some of the provisions of the will. To make sure he had done so Mr. Hanna wrote on the margin of one paragraph: "Oct. 14, 1921. This provision cancelled." This paragraph, however, is not the one in which Miss Evans is mentioned but the one which gives the estate and other property to Dan R. Hanna Jr. There is no way of telling just what paragraphs Mr. Hanna blotted out, but it is certain where the note is written in the margin. The paragraph mentioning Miss Evans also is on the margin of the will.

House Reported Sold.
There was a report yesterday that the Hanna home at Yorktown, where the financier died on November 3, had been transferred by him just before his death. There is, however, no record of a change of title. The estate was purchased by Mr. Hanna from Marion K. Versey in October, 1919, and the price was said to have been $35,000.

The fact that Miss Evans was to have been married to Mr. Hanna was verified in Chicago by William Evans, her nephew, who is a manufacturer and real estate dealer. Her parents, who are in England, where they have been living for several years, William Evans said his aunt met Mr. Hanna in New York City. He said he was sure that the engagement had not been broken and that the wedding was to have taken place in October.

In 1911 Miss Evans, who has been on the stage, was engaged to William Carpenter Camp, former husband of Elita Procter O'Leary, actress. The engagement was announced then by Camp, who had been married twice before, at the Lambs in New York.

JERSEY TUNNEL BOARD RECASTS CONTRACTS
Shaft and Half of Tube to Go to Single Bidder.

The New Jersey Interstate Bridge and Tunnel Commission yesterday adopted the recommendation of C. M. Holland, chief engineer, that all bids for contract No. 2 for sinking of ventilation shafts in the New Jersey side of the proposed tunnel be rejected and contract No. 2 be merged with contract No. 4, readvertised as contract No. 4.

Contract No. 4 is for the construction of the tunnel from the New Jersey side to the middle of the Hudson River. It is the opinion of the chief engineer at single bids on both pieces of work would result in lower prices. His recommendation was approved two weeks ago by the New York State Bridge and Tunnel Commission.

The work under contract No. 1 for sinking shafts on the New York side has been completed. Contract No. 2 for construction of the New York side of the tunnel has not been advertised.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO FORGERY CHARGES
George B. House Held in $10,000 Bail.

George B. House, 23 years old, of 235 West 36th street, Manhattan, pleaded not guilty before County Judge Bayne in Brooklyn yesterday to an indictment charging him with forgery and grand larceny. He was held in $10,000 bail for trial.

House is declared to have committed a number of forgeries while in the employ of the Tormine Corporation of 42 Schenectady avenue, Brooklyn.

He had charge of the payroll and checks. It is charged that he mailed the firm out of $7,000. The specific allegation is that he raised a $50 check to $200.

MRS. ENRIGHT LOSES $3,000 IN JEWELS WHEN SHOPPING
Alarm Sent Out by Police Headquarters, but No Trace Is Found of Valuables Belonging to the Commissioner's Wife.

Mrs. Richard E. Enright, wife of the Police Commissioner, lost jewelry worth more than $3,000 Monday afternoon while shopping in Brooklyn. The loss became known last night in spite of strenuous efforts of the police and officials to suppress the news. No one connected with the Police Department could be found who would admit he had heard of a general alarm describing the gems.

It was learned, however, that Mrs. Enright was shopping alone in a Brooklyn department store when the jewelry was believed to have disappeared. She did not discover the loss until she had returned to her home at 897 St. Mark's avenue. A few hurried telephone calls to the stores she had visited failed to produce any information concerning the jewelry and she then notified Police Headquarters in Brooklyn.

The jewelry, which was contained in a small change bag, included Mrs. Enright's wedding ring, two wrist watches and three diamond rings.

A. E. F. MEN BACK, NO MOOR WAR HEROES
Americans Balked at Paying Spain for Privilege of Fighting.

Thirteen Americans who served in France in the world war were among a group of eighty-three disgusted and disillusioned young men from every country on the western side of the Atlantic who arrived yesterday by the Spanish Royal Mail liner Montevideo from Barcelona and Cadiz, after giving up their original intention to win glory in the foreign legion of the Spanish army in its war with Morocco.

Lieut. Charles Ernest Selig, who served in the Eighty-first Division of the A. E. F., and George N. Dimond of Brooklyn, originally in the British army, were among the disillusioned.

Dimond said that of the 148 Americans who sailed from the steamship Antonio Lopez on September 14 to fight in Morocco, only eight enlisted in the Spanish Foreign Legion, the others scattering to various parts of Europe. All foreigners were required to buy their own rifles and uniforms and pay for meals and laundry. The pay was about 30 cents a day, and a man who enlisted on these terms, Dimond said, would be perpetually in debt to the Spanish army.

Several officers other than the Americans who fought in the Montevideo, said their former rank was not recognized and that they were told they would have to enlist as privates, which nearly all of them decided to do. Most of the eighty-three are bound for Cuba. All said the discipline in the Spanish army was lax and the equipment inadequate and that they were tired of fighting. They were of French, English, Italian, Russian and German adventurers.

SALES FOR BIG TEST OF OVERSEA WIRELESS
Paul Godley Will Send to 15,000 Stations Here.

Paul Godley, wireless expert, who will represent America in the transatlantic wireless tests that will take up a whole week in December, sailed yesterday by the Cunarder Aquitania for Southampton. Mr. Godley's experiments will be made with the permission of the British Government. Between 15,000 and 20,000 American amateur stations will take part in the test, including several hundred in and near New York City.

Mr. Godley said that it was expected that a number of the most powerful stations would be heard across the ocean and would mark the beginning of permanent transatlantic communication between non-commercial wireless stations.

Five years ago Mr. Godley perfected "regenerative" receiver and he is taking to England two of the most powerful receiving stations ever designed. Among those who went to the pier to wish Mr. Godley success were William Percy Mackin, Major J. N. Armstrong, former head of the United States Army Radio Research Division.

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED BUT NOT FOR 'OWNER'
Second Claimant Causes Arrest of First.

When John F. Brennan, a chauffeur of 760 East 183d street, reported that his automobile had been stolen the police made a diligent search and found a car which bore the license and engine numbers given by Brennan. The automobile was about to be restored to him, when the police found another number on the engine about which it was said Brennan had a bill of sale dated seven days before the theft of Zaeger's car, and are holding the automobile pending settlement of the case. Brennan was held in $1,500 bail by Magistrate Corrigan for a hearing Friday.

WET GOODS ON SALE IN DRY GOODS STORE
Agents Assert They Found Alcohol at $18 a Gallon.

Prohibition agents in Brooklyn reported yesterday that they had found alcohol on sale in a dry goods store in the Brownsville section at $18 a gallon, purchasable only in five gallon lots. The standard price in Brooklyn, the agents say, is $5.50 a gallon.

They arrested Abraham Goldstein, proprietor of the store, at 58 Osborn street, and his father, Morris Goldstein, charging that they had bought alcohol in the store. The agents also visited the drug store of Abraham Leventhal, at 79 Osborn street, where, they said, they bought a pint of alcohol for $2. Leventhal was arrested also.

Benjamin Bentler and his wife, Anna, were held in $5,000 bail yesterday by United States Commissioner Hitebach on a charge of violating the Volstead act. Federal Prohibition Agent Hoffman said in an affidavit the pair ran a saloon at 18 Stanton street and that the woman sold him a glass of whiskey on November 14.

GO TO FIRE, FIND HOME ABLAZE
Fire wrecked the house of Mrs. Cora Smith, in South Bayview avenue, near the Lights Club house, Freeport, L. I., on Monday night. The loss was about $20,000. The family had been at a motion picture show, and followed the firemen, thus discovering that the fire was in their own house.

SAVING LIFE WON
Supply 85 Per Cent. of Normal, They Report, With More Wagons Running.

JERSEY LOCAL DESERTS
Owners Hope to Get Court to Make Their Injunction Permanent.

With the distributors claiming a milk supply 85 per cent. of normal and a revolt against the Milk Drivers Union indicated when all the members of a New Jersey local returned to work, the New York Milk Conference Board viewed the milk strike last night as a thing of the past.

The distributors feel that the last bit of union resistance to their open shop principle will be broken if their temporary injunction is made permanent today in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn.

Three hundred members of Local 691 of the Milk Drivers Union, meeting in Newark, voted unanimously to return to work. They said the union had forced the strike over the opposition of their international officers, with the result that their strike benefits were cut off. The union headquarters in Newark were hung in grape and inside a stuffed figure was set up. This first was tagged "George W. Wager," and later the sign was made to read, "Milk Drivers Union, Local 691."

Union Men Missing.
Neither Briggs nor any officer of the union could be found. At union headquarters, 316 West Forty-second street, it was said Briggs was out of town and that the others were "out on strike business." For the first time in nearly two weeks the strikers failed to issue their daily statement. Many persons who had been at headquarters each day since the strike started November 1 also were missing.

The Borden Farm Products Company had 1,403 wagons out yesterday, it was said in a statement. "Sheffield Farms had 850, but greatly increased deliveries through retail stores. In New Jersey 300 men returned to their jobs and in Westchester enough employees have applied for reinstatement to enable the company to select those thought to be best qualified.

"Reports of violence continue, however, to reach us. Three men were given twenty days each in jail to-day by Magistrate Corrigan in West Side court. They were taken to a Sheffield Farms wagon driver.

Richard Taylor of 32 Nassau street, Ridgewood, was sentenced to ten days in jail for following a milk wagon and warning purchasers that the milk was poisoned."

Milk Workers Attacked.
Two milk workers were attacked by strikers at the Livonia avenue terminal of the Erie Railroad in Jersey City. Michael Wit of 114 Coles street, Jersey City, was the most seriously injured. He was taken to Jersey City Hospital with a possible fracture of the skull.

Frank Devito of 154 Seventeenth street, Brooklyn, the second worker, suffered lacerations of the scalp, was attended and went home.

STANDARD OIL AWARDS BIG SHIPPING CONTRACT
Cunard Company to Carry 1,000,000 Cases of Oil.

Approximately 1,000,000 cases of oil will be shipped to Mediterranean and Near Eastern ports during the next year under a contract awarded yesterday by the Standard Oil Company of New York to the Cunard Steamship Company. The contract price was 17½ cents a hundred pounds.

Practically every port in southern and southeastern Europe, northern Africa, Turkey and the Levant and Black Sea regions is covered by the contract. Bids were invited by the Standard Oil Company from all lines serving this region, and four responded. Furness, Withy & Co. entered a bid of 27 cents; the Shipping Board was next with an offer of 24 cents, and then came the Orient Steam Navigation Company, which owns American flag vessels, with a bid of 20 cents.

The Cunard Line, as the lowest bidder, received the contract. Keen interest was taken in the bidding by shipping men in New York, not only because of the size of the contract but because American and foreign firms were awarded equal shares of it. There was also speculation as to whether the Shipping Board or the private American line would enter the lower bid.

Freight ships exclusively will be used by the Cunard Line to transport the oil, it was learned yesterday.

RED CROSS THANKED BY DISABLED VETERANS
American Legion Supports New Roll Call.

The prompt expression of gratitude to the American Red Cross at the opportunity afforded by the 1922 Red Cross roll call was given by 4,700 disabled veterans of the late war who are under treatment in the Federal Government hospitals, where the Red Cross has been actively administering aid during the year. Reports at the campaign headquarters stated yesterday that more than 5,000 service men have contributed to the roll call.

A further demonstration of what service men think of the Red Cross is expected before the end of the drive. Thanksgiving Day, as the American Legion has promised its support and is urging all its members to fall in. Three hundred nurses, and many other overseas, have renewed their allegiance to the Red Cross by taking out new memberships.

An emergency canteen which worked night and day during the war feeding men as they embarked at Hoboken has been reformed for the drive. The unit includes Mrs. MacLane Van Ingen, Miss Ethel Spear, Miss Eulalie Van Lennep, Miss Belle S. Andrews, Miss Emily B. Potts, Miss Monica Doyle and Mrs. Montague Flagg.

FOCH GIVES WILDCAT TO BRONX PARK ZOO
Marshal Got Animal From Middle West Admirers.

The wildcat presented to Marshal Ferdinand Foch on his recent tour of the middle West found a permanent home in the New York Zoological Society's Zoo at Bronx Park yesterday. The Marshal carried the animal about with him until he arrived at the Pennsylvania Station in his special train yesterday morning, when he gave it to the city of New York. A truck was waiting at the station to take the wildcat to the Zoo.

The Zoo also acquired several alligators yesterday, the ones that R. A. Gushoe imported from Florida last spring to prevent them from bathing in a small pond on the golf course at his hotel, Longvue, in Westchester county.

MOTOR DEATH UP TO JURY.
The death of Joseph Lings, a young carpenter residing at Four Corners, who died at the Staten Island Hospital, New Brighton, on the morning of November 3 last, from a fracture of the skull, was received during an automobile ride, was presented to the Grand Jury at St. George yesterday for investigation. The police and District Attorney Joseph Maloney expected an indictment for manslaughter to result from the investigation.
